

Information on the processing of personal data

Newsletter – DARE Research Initiative – Digital Lifelong Prevention

This information is provided pursuant to articles 13 and 14 of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 "on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data, as well as the free circulation of such data" (hereinafter, "GDPR") and Italian Legislative Decree 196/2003, as amended by Italian Legislative Decree 101/2018.

Data Controller and Data Protection Officer

The data controller is the Participatory Foundation called "DARE – Digital Lifelong Prevention", with registered office in Bologna, Galleria Ugo Bassi n. 1, tax code 91452980377, info@fondazioneidare.it. The Data Protection Officer can be contacted by email at dpo@fondazioneidare.it.

Purpose, legal basis and nature of the processing

The processing of personal data is aimed at sending you informative communications on research activities and related initiatives conducted and organized within the research initiative DARE – Digital Lifelong Prevention (hereinafter, "DARE Project"), co-financed by the National Complementary Plan PNC-I.1 "Research initiative for technologies and innovative paths in the health and care sector", DD 931 of 06/06/2022, code PNC0000002.

Personal data will be stored until the end of the DARE Project, during which time the informative newsletter service will be active. In any case, any type of promotional communication is excluded and it will always be possible to unsubscribe from the service.

The legal basis for the processing is to be found, pursuant to art. 6, paragraph 1, letter e), of the GDPR, in the task carried out in the public interest by the DARE Foundation, aimed at the implementation, processing, transfer and valorization of knowledge in relation to the DARE Project.

Data provision is optional, not deriving from a regulatory or contractual obligation, but is necessary for the purposes of subscribing to the newsletter.

Processing methods

The data will be processed with electronic, digital, computer, telematic and analog tools, in full compliance with the law, according to principles of lawfulness and correctness and in a way to protect confidentiality. In any case, personal data will not be subject to an automated decision-making process, nor will they be transferred to a country outside the European Economic Area (EEA, i.e. EU, in addition to Norway, Liechtenstein, Iceland).

Categories and origin of personal data

For the aforementioned purpose, the data controller may process the following personal information:

1. Identification data (name and surname)
2. Email address

This data may be obtained through:

- Your explicit request to subscribe to the newsletter (e.g., via a specific form on www.fondazioneidare.it)
- The DARE Foundation's existing records as the implementing body of the DARE Project
- Data subject's affiliated institution, which is a partner of the DARE Project.

Recipients of personal data

The data may be sent to third parties, appointed as Data Processors pursuant to art. 28 of Regulation (EU) 2016/679, with reference to the management of services or IT systems connected to the newsletter.

Rights of data subject

Pursuant to articles 15-18 and 20-21 of the GDPR, data subject has the right:

- to obtain information in relation to the purposes for which personal data is processed, the period of processing and the subjects to whom the data is communicated (right of access);
- to obtain the rectification or integration of inaccurate personal data (right to rectification);
- to obtain the deletion of personal data in the following cases (a) the data is no longer necessary for the purposes for which they were collected; (b) he/she has withdrawn his/her consent to the processing of data processed on the basis of his/her consent; (c) he/she has opposed the processing of personal data concerning him/her in the event that they are processed for our legitimate interest; or (d) the processing of his/her personal data is not compliant with the law. However, we point out that the retention of personal data by the data controller is lawful if it is necessary to allow compliance with a legal obligation or to ascertain, exercise or defend a right in court (right to erasure);
- To obtain restriction of processing in specific cases: (a) the accuracy of the personal data is contested by data subject, for the period necessary to allow us to verify the accuracy of such personal data; (b) the processing is unlawful but data subject opposes the erasure of the personal data; (c) the personal data is necessary for data subject to ascertain, exercise or defend a right in court; (d) data subject has objected to the processing and we are awaiting verification as to whether our legitimate grounds for processing prevail over those of data subject (right to restriction of the processing), (e) if there is a public interest;
- To object to processing based on legitimate interests (right to object);
- to receive in a commonly used, machine-readable and interoperable format the personal data concerning you processed by automated means, if they are processed pursuant to a contract or based on consent (right to data portability).

You may exercise your rights by contacting the data controller directly at the contact details detailed above.

Finally, if data subject wishes to submit a complaint regarding the ways in which his/her data is processed, or regarding the management of a proposed complaint, he/she has the right to submit a request directly to the Supervisory Authority (Italian Data Protection Authority: www.gpdp.it) or to take appropriate legal action (art. 79 of the GDPR).
